

PARKING CUM SHOPPING COMPLEX INAUGURATED

Based on the architectural drawings and landscaping by the Associated Builders, Guwahati and structural design and drawing by Gepong Enterprises, Itanagar, the phase I Parking cum Shopping Complex ; built at an estimated cost of Rs. 326.00 lacs under Non-Lapsable Central Pool of Resources (NLCPR), got inaugurated here today i.e 9th Feb, 2010 at Bomdila by R. T. Khunjuju, the Parliamentary Secretary for Hydro Power Development.

Speaking on the occasion, the Parliamentary Secretary, lauding the efforts put in by the department and its functionaries of the district, opined that with the completion of the parking complex, the perennial parking problem of the Bomdila township would be addressed to a great extent. Deputy Commissioner Swati Sharma revealed that, the traffic in the market area would be regulated and made one way. Necessary co-ordination meetings would be conducted and orders implemented in this context, she added.

Executed by the Department of UD and Housing, Bomdila Division, the project have been built on an area measuring 0.18 acre in the heart of Bomdila township with an allocation of Rs. 293.40 lacs from the central government and Rs. 32.60 lacs as state share, the project commenced in Feb/2006 and got completed in Dec/2009. This phase I parking project, built at the cost of Rs. 326.00 lacs would be able to accommodate 80 light motor vehicles. The shopping complex would be taken up under phase II allocation.

On 7th last, R. T. Khunjuju, Parliamentary Secretary for Hydro Power Development and also the local legislator of Bomdila, hosted a grand New Year picnic for the people as a token of his appreciation and acknowledgement for reposing faith in him by re-electing him for the second consecutive term.